Nearly 18 million people abused prescription drugs at least once in the past year. It's a national issue, and you can make a difference by removing unused, expired or unwanted medication from your home.

While you may take your medications responsibly, there could be others with access to your medicine cabinet who might abuse them. Help eliminate that access by getting rid of them safely at SUN Delaware with no cost to you and no questions asked.

If you know someone struggling with substance abuse and addiction, we can help. Call SUN first.
